SOFTWARE PACKAGE

- PoliPrompt (PyPI — GitHub)

PoliPrompt is a Python package developed to make large language models a reliable tool for text classification in political science. It offers automatic prompt optimization and dynamic exemplar selection, making advanced text analysis accessible to political scientists and social science researchers, especially those without programming expertise. By leveraging a three-stage framework, PoliPrompt minimizes the need for manual intervention, reducing learning costs and increasing research efficiency.

Key features include:

- Automatic Prompt Optimization: Automates the generation of optimized prompts, ensuring higher model performance with minimal user input.
- Dynamic Exemplar Selection: Selects the most relevant examples in real-time to improve the accuracy of few-shot learning inference.
